

Wordpress Blogs Reference Guide - Dashboard

The following image is the Dashboard. To get to this screen, log into your blog.

Use QuickPress if you just want to quickly write a post.

This area has all of the menu items to help you build your blog.

You can see the status of your blog here, including how many comments are pending approval.

The modules on this screen can be arranged in several columns. You can select the number of columns from the Screen Options tab.

Most of the modules on this screen can be moved. If you hover your mouse over the title bar of a module you'll notice the 4 arrow cursor appears to let you know it is movable. Click on it, hold down the mouse button and start dragging the module to a new location. As you drag the module, notice the dotted gray box that also moves. This box indicates where the module will be placed when you release the mouse button.

The same modules can be expanded and collapsed by clicking once on their title bar and also completely hidden from the Screen Options tab.