

Embedding a Video in your Blog Post

Before you can embed a video in a post, you need to have the embed code of the video you want to embed. In YouTube, there is an area on the right side of the video with a box that says Embed. Highlight the code in that box and copy it.

Next, go to the blog post in which you want to embed the video. Type in a Title and whatever other text you want to add to the body of the post. When you are ready to add the code, click on the Tab that says HTML. Insert your cursor in the post area and paste the code for your video.

When you are ready to have your post appear, click on the Publish button.
